(2) Turnover and Profit

In 2007, the Group strengthened the management, strove for planned output, optimized dispatch and achieved a considerable increase in the volume of power generation. The total volume of electricity supplied by the Group to the grid for the year 2007 was 65.40 million MWh, surging by approximately 40.02% over 2006. Turnover for the year 2007 amounted to approximately RMB20,341 million, representing an increase of approximately 38.38% over 2006. Profits attributable to equity shareholders of the Company amounted to approximately RMB1,197 million, representing a decrease of approximately 0.36% from 2006. Earnings per share were RMB0.199. The increase in turnover was mainly due to the growth in power generation and the full year effect of the increased on-grid tariff for the year which came into effect in June 2006.

In 2007, the operating expenses of the Group amounted to RMB17,387 million, representing an increase of approximately 38.89% over 2006, which was mainly due to the increase in installed capacity and power generation as well as the hiking coal price. The increase of operating expenses was below that of average installed capacity.

The principal contribution to the operating expenses of the Group was coal costs, which amounted to RMB11,561 million in 2007, accounting for approximately 66.49% of the Group's total operating expenses. In 2007, the Group strove for improving coal quality and reducing coal prices. Unit fuel cost for electricity supplied by the Group amounted to RMB172.28/MWh, representing a 5.85% increase from 2006, mainly attributable to an increase in coal price.

Depreciation and amortisation expenses of the Group amounted to RMB2,858 million in 2007, representing an increase of approximately 50.71% over 2006. This mainly resulted from the additional depreciation of the newly-operated units.

The major overhaul and repair and maintenance expenses of the Group increased to RMB619 million in 2007, representing an increase of approximately 40.18% over 2006 which fell below the growth in the Group's average installed capacity, mainly due to the Group's additional efforts in controlling the major overhaul and repair and maintenance costs for its units.

Personnel costs of the Group amounted to RMB1,151 million in 2007, representing a decrease of approximately 9.17% from 2006.

Administrative expenses of the Group for 2007 increased by approximately 13.98% to RMB650 million as compared with that for 2006. This was mainly due to additional real estate tax, land use tax and property insurance premium and other expenses of the newly-operated units.

Other operating costs amounted to RMB344 million, representing an increase of 4.67% over 2006, mainly due to additional water and oil expenses for power generation from the increased volume of power generation.

Net finance costs of the Group in 2007 amounted to RMB1,382 million, representing an increase of RMB927 million, or approximately 203.88%, over 2006. This was mainly attributable to the increase in total loan interest charged in income statement due to the commissioning of new units.

(5) Charges of Assets

As at 31 December 2007, Guangan Company, Tengzhou Company, Lingwu Company and Suzhou Company, all being subsidiaries of the Company, have charged their income stream in respect of the sale of electricity or trade receivables for sale of electricity to banks as security for bank loans amounting to RMB6,780 million.

(6) Indebtedness

As at 31 December 2007, the borrowings of the Group amounted to RMB33,796 million, of which loans denominated in US dollars amounted to US$200 million. The liabilities to assets ratio was 72.49%, representing an increase of 1.82 percentage points over that of 2006. This was mainly attributable to the issuance of short-term debentures during the year and the increase in other financial borrowings. All loans of the Group were mainly floating rate loans. Short-term loans and long-term loans due within one year amounted to approximately RMB11,244 million, and long-term loans amounted to approximately RMB22,552 million. In addition, short-term debentures of the Group amounted to approximately RMB3,986 million.

In 2007, the net increase in consolidated cash and cash equivalents of the Group amounted to approximately RMB411 million. Of which, the net increase in cash flow generated from operating activities amounted to approximately RMB3,355 million, representing an increase of RMB1,064 million over 2006; the net decrease in cash flow generated from investing activities amounted to approximately RMB10,163 million, representing a decrease of RMB3,485 million from 2006 which was mainly attributable to the on-streaming of the Group's projects in construction and the decreased investment during the reporting period as compared to 2006; the net increase in cash flow generated from financing activities amounted to approximately RMB7,219 million, representing a decrease of RMB4,273 million from 2006 which was mainly due to the increased debt repayment by the Group during the reporting period.

(10) Production, Operation and Safety

In 2007, the equivalent availability factor of the generating units was approximately 94.53%; the equivalent forced suspension rate was approximately 0.57%; the average coal consumption rate for electricity supply of generating units was approximately 342.30g/KWh, a decrease of approximately 5.03g/KWh from that of 2006.

In 2007, the Group maintained its operational safety at a decent level. As at 31 December 2007, all power plants of the Group had achieved operational safety throughout the year.

In 2007, a total of 10 major overhauls and 25 minor overhauls were undertaken in respect of the generating units of the Group and the planned overhaul rate was approximately 4.76%, representing a decrease of approximately 0.48 percentage points from 2006.

With a commitment to building a resource-conservation and environment-friendly enterprise, the Group implemented desulphurisation technological renovation for its currently-operated units totalling 7,390MW (including 1,940MW in progress of desulphurisation technological renovation). As at the date of this announcement, desulphurisation projects for 5,450MW of 8 power plants/companies have commenced operation. Together with the newly-operated units, a total of 15,830MW desulphurisation facilities of 13 power plants/companies have been put in operation, building up a good environmental image.

The Company completed the public issue of the first tranche of short-term debentures for year 2007 in the PRC inter-bank debenture market on 8 May 2007. The short-term debentures were issued on a discount basis, totalling RMB4 billion with an issue price of RMB97.54 per RMB100 par value at interest rate of 3.38% for a term of 272 days. The short-term debentures were publicly issued in the PRC inter-bank debenture market by way of book building and centralised placing by the Industrial and Commercial Bank of China Limited as the lead underwriter organizing the underwriting syndicate. The issue of such short-term debentures effectively reduced the financing cost of the Company, bringing down the Company's financial cost by RMB44.32 million for the whole year.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

(1) Power generation industry trend and market competitions faced by the Group

According to statistics, in 2008, the national economy will grow continuously and stably while the power demand is expected to expand relatively quickly. Meanwhile, the State will advance towards an energy efficient and environment-friendly society. In particular, policies of Energy Saving Scheduling and On-Grid based on Lower Energy Consumption will be gradually implemented across the PRC, which will lead to a fundamental change in the landscape of power market competition. With remarkable improvement in comprehensive strengths after years' growth, the Group is well placed to consolidate and maintain its competitive advantage in the PRC by capitalizing on its energy-saving and environment-friendly generating units with large capacity and high efficiency.

Through a decade of rapid growth and continuous expansion, the installed capacity, on-grid electricity, profitability, competitiveness and strengths of the Group as a listed power generating enterprise has maintained its position in China. In light of its scientific development concept by insisting development as the most important task, the Group will constantly optimize the regional structure and power source structure, vigorously promote benchmarking management, and speed up the pace of building an outstanding, modern and national listed power generating company to continuously improve its comprehensive competitiveness. The long-term, steady and rapid economic momentum of China brings favourable conditions to fast growth of the power industry. Along with the progress of the power system reform and under the support of China Huadian Corporation, the parent company, the Group enters a phase of golden time of development.

Currently, power demand is increasing in developed or fast-growing economies including Shandong, Sichuan, Ningxia, Anhui and Henan in which the Group invests. In addition, the Group has quality assets with its subordinate plants owning a majority in the high performance and efficient large generating units, among which generating units with 300MW or above accounted for over 90% of the total installed capacity.

In 2008, the Group will continue to put efforts in infrastructure projects, operation improvement, power source project development, cost-effectiveness enhancement and capital operations optimisation, aiming at increasing the overall strength and competitive edge of the Group. The Group is confident in its ability to seize opportunities and address challenges, and to face the challenges posed by critical market situations. By fully utilizing its own advantages, it will constantly expand its operations and overcome various adverse factors including the relatively lower utilization hours and the rising coal price, so as to secure a steady and fast growth. In the future, the Group expects to expand its installed capacity through acquiring assets of the parent company and its organic growth.

will be brought under critical challenge by the expected rise in overall coal price due to a further increase in key coal contract prices, as a result of coal price deregulation upon the deepening of the coal market reform. Second, greater pressure of financing and environment protection and a substantial increase in infrastructure investment have rendered the Group's gearing ratio to exceed 70% and its financial expenses to increase. Third, as the growth of installed capacity where the Group's subordinate enterprises operate has outpaced that of electricity demand in the regions, thereby resulting in the Group's relatively lower recorded average utilization hours. Fourth, industry competition is intensifying. The changing relation between supply and demand of power and the deepening power reform will result in fiercer competition in power development and power market. Power generation groups will not only scramble for limited resources such as the power source projects, coal resources, water resources and transport capacity, but also initiate all-round and in-depth competition in equipment structure, market share, business efficiency and management performance.

The major objectives of the Group in 2008 are as follows:

1. To further improve safe production management and to maintain the plants in a leading position in terms of various technological and economic performance indicators within the industry.
2. To ensure timely commencement of operation of projects under construction, with effective control on their construction progress, quality and unit costs.
3. To drive preliminary projects forward, to further optimize power source structure and regional structure, to actively develop new energy projects, to accelerate the development of hydroelectricity projects, and to boost the construction and development of wind power projects.
4. To put more effort in competing for exploration and construction of new projects so as to speed up the Group's expansion in domestic power generation industry.
5. To further enhance the long-term strategic partnership with coal mine suppliers so as to improve coal quality and secure coal supply.
6. To strengthen power marketing, to enhance the competitiveness under the policy of "On-grid based on Lower Energy Consumption" and to make full strides to increase power generation and optimize power structure.

the Company's profitability.

8. To actively explore multiple debt financing channels for reduction in financing costs so as to meet future financial needs from its fast growing development.
9. To introduce innovative human resources management system for overall improvement of its management team.

Notes:

1 Basis of preparation of the financial statements

The consolidated financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2007 comprise the Group and its interest in associates and a jointly controlled entity.

The financial statements are prepared on the historical cost basis except that the derivative financial instruments are stated at their fair value.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRSs requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of policies and reported amounts of assets and liabilities, income and expenses. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis of making the judgements about carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

- (a) In prior years, investment in jointly controlled entity was accounted for under proportionate consolidation method for consolidated financial statements prepared under IFRS and the People's Republic of China ("PRC") Accounting Standards and Regulations. Effective from 1 January 2007, the Group adopted the new China Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises ("CAS") (2006) for the preparation of PRC financial statements and changed its accounting policy to the equity method for the investment in jointly controlled entity in accordance with CAS 2 "Long-term equity investments".

In order to avoid confusion and to harmonise with existing CAS (2006), the directors believe that the adoption of the equity method could provide more relevant information about the Group's financial position. As a result, the Group has adopted the equity method, which is permitted under IAS 31 Interests in joint ventures, to account for investment in jointly controlled entity for consolidated financial statements prepared under IFRS with effect from 1 January 2007.

The change in accounting policy has been adopted retrospectively but there is no effect on the opening net assets, retained profits nor the profit or loss for the periods presented. The adoption of the equity method only resulted in a reclassification of the accounting captions and the effects to the Group's consolidated financial statements are set out below:

Notes:

- (a) According to the accounting policies adopted in the Group's financial statements prepared under IFRS, assets and liabilities acquired by the Group during business combination, irrespective of whether such business combination is involving entities under common control or not, are measured at the fair value of identifiable assets and liabilities of the acquiree at the date of acquisition. In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the respective financial statements of subsidiaries are adjusted based on the fair value of individual identifiable assets and liabilities at the date of acquisition. The excess of purchase consideration paid by the Company over its share of fair value of identifiable net assets of the acquired was recognised as goodwill.

combination involving entities under common control are measured at their carrying value at the date of combination. Consolidated financial statements are prepared based on the financial statements of the Company and subsidiaries. The excess of carrying value of purchase consideration paid by the Company over its share of carrying value of identifiable net assets of the acquiree for business combination involving entities under common control reduces the share premium of capital reserve or retained earnings. There are differences for business combination involving entities under common control under CAS (2006) and IFRS.

In addition, according to CAS (2006), in preparing consolidated financial statements, the opening balances as well as the comparative figures of the financial statements should be adjusted as if the current structure and operations resulting from the acquisitions had been in existence since prior periods in respect of business combination involving entities under common control. Accordingly, the capital reserve was adjusted for its increase in net assets due to business combination.

- (b) According to IFRS, conditional government grants should be first recorded in long-term liabilities and amortised to profit or loss using the straight line method over the useful lives of the relevant assets after fulfilling the requirements from the government in respect of the construction projects.

Since 1 January 2007, according to CAS (2006), government grants related to assets (required to be recorded in capital reserve pursuant to the relevant government notice) are not recognised as deferred income.
